Bucks for Sale

May 15, 2012

This doc is now in WORD, not WP

There is a DIFFERENT LIST if you would prefer to order a buck kid BEFORE it is born.

We do NOT claim Breeders' Rights. If you make the deposit, you get the kid even if he is the BEST ONE OF THE YEAR.

ZINUSKA defeated the rest of the herd big time on the Feb. 25 2012 test. She did 19.5.

The second place doe did 17.0. ZINUSKA was the only kid Scott didn't list for sale. Because he wanted her for himself. Everything else had a price.

WHY DO DAIRYMEN GRAB A BUCK KID WHEN THE DAM DID 4,000 BUT WE KEEP WAITING AND WAITING AND WAITING WHEN THE DAM DID 3,982?

Alice doesn't like to chew out the high school and college kids too often. So every year they leave ONE chain instead of two between the bucks and milkers. All of the 2011 buck kids that got bought are listed in the back of this list. Any one of them could have been the Dad. They all have milk. We cannot run DNA tests because they are scattered all over the world.

As a kid, BING looked very, very good. We bred him to four of our does. Now he looks narrow from the front, and scrawny. CAPRIKORN bucks look great as kids, crappy as yearlings, and great again when they age.

AMAZING freshened at 8 months and 3 weeks of age. She is the judge's choice out of 18 yearlings. A baby, so this lactation can't be too great. We are thrilled to have a doe that can get pregnant that soon. Looks like it may be a "E" mammary.

He is a little wild. Our bucks are friendly. We are using him as Clean Up.

BLUE looks very good, maybe excellent. He is the second best looking buck of 2011. Not real wild, but not real friendly. He keeps you just out of reach so you can't grab his collar.

AQUAGIRL was the #1 Milking Yearling out of 26! And now the #1, Two Year Old!

Her first 7 teats were: 8.5, 12.5, 13.5, 13.5, 11.5, 12.0, 10.0 lbs. AS A BABY! Starting at 11 months of age!

WIND definitely tightened up the BIG beautiful VENICE udder. She looks great! Spectacular until she lost capacity. We don't like her back feet. Have to be trimmed to keep pasterns up. The judges don't mind. XANADU can show.

Middle of the class 4 or 5 times. Not a happy fat test for Dairymen. XANADU has the BIG escutcheon. She is also an escape artist. WIND has two full sisters and they are both appraised with E Mammaries. Appraiser said "Probably your top show doe next year!!"

SINCERITY is a doe you can depend on to deliver excellent milk and babies. She has the most lifetime milk of any doe in the herd. First test at 6 y.o. 17.5lb

Judge Anne McKeever Clagett picked ZINCERITY as our best looking milking two year old. She was shown twice and was 1st of 4 in ring one and RGCH.

ZINCERITY has an excellent mammary bursting with milk. It may be protruding a little which will make it an excellent mammary for dairymen but only VG for the American Show Goat ASSN.

It's hard to see how any buck kids in the U.S. could be higher rated for milk than BREYER, who was a Supreme Court Justice. YELSON's dam is a 98th percentile doe and SINCERITY is a 99th percentile doe. Up top, the GCH'S RENOV & KRUG are both summary bucks with RENOV currently ranked number one all time.

To get the biggest milk check, try using a buck whose dam is 99th Rank. But that is half the story Even belter is if his sire is also ranked 99. YELSON is not ranked yet, but his dam is 99.

This buck's right eye was swollen and it protruded. Also he was a little lethargic. Maybe he is blind in that eye. His build is very good. He is very friendly. This is a very handsome buck, ready to breed. We used him on Cleanup on about 15 does we tried to breed in August. It still worries Scott that he is not hyper like his Dad.

PRANA finished her GCH in only 5 shows, losing once to her dam - GCH KATMANDU

BRAHMAN has bumpy knees, otherwise he looks great. He has the escutcheon we want to get the WIDE udders. We will use him on the KATMANDU family. We will probably never get another 5,000 pound doe that can go 91. And if we do, we'll never find the good looking son of a 5,000 pound doe to breed her to.
